

Dr. Margherita Beruto

Micropropagation • Ornamental Crops • Floriculture

About

Margherita Beruto is an experienced horticultural scientist, former Director of the Regional Institute for Floriculture (IRF) in Sanremo, Italy, with extensive expertise in micropropagation and ornamental crop development.

Quick Facts

Scientific Expertise

Micropropagation

Affiliation

Regional Institute for Floriculture (IRF), Italy (Former Director)

Languages

- Italian
- English
- French

Contact

✉ margheberuto@gmail.com

Mentor Availability

- ☒ Flash Mentor
- ☒ Short-Term Mentor (1 to 3 months)

ISHS Experience

- 2026-2030: Vice-Chair, Ornamental Plants Division

Crop Expertise

Ranunculus, Anemone, Helleborus, Peony, Limonium, Carnation, Chrysanthemum, cut flowers, succulents and orchids

International Experience

Europe - Italy

Personal Statement

Throughout her career, Margherita Beruto has worked on ornamental horticulture, propagation systems, and scientific leadership. She is interested in supporting knowledge exchange and mentoring the next generation of horticultural scientists.

Areas in Which Margherita Can Mentor

- Micropropagation
 - Ornamental crop production
 - Research management
 - Career development in horticultural science
 - Floriculture and plant propagation
-

ISHS Mentoring Programme

Connecting experience with the next generation of horticultural scientists